Congratulations go to Clark Magnet CTE Animation students, who recently competed in the 24 HOURS Animation Contest for Students. Over 300 teams of 5 students each from around the globe participated in this year's challenge. Competitors were given the prompt to create a 30-second animated film about what life will be like in 100 years. The primary makeup of students participating were of college age, however teams from 27 high schools participated. Mr. Lockhart, Animation Teacher, is extremely proud of the 20 Clark participants whose collaborative spirits and desire to tell stories through the creation of art is inspiring. Notable accomplishments go to team Livid Potatoes (Nicolas Fang, Eric Markarian, Gavin Marquis, Jacob Schofield, and team lead Kyle Moreno) who earned a 3rd place ranking among all high school teams, just behind two Canadian teams from Sisler High School. Nic Fang shared a comment in jest saying, "We're, technically, the best in America." GREAT JOB, WAY TO GO!!
